

Overview

The CHEP Pallecon Solutions, Pallecon Fruitflow, is ideal for the packaging in bulk of juice, pulps and purees.

Intermediate bulk containers are quickly becoming the standard for packaging in bulk fruit and tomato-based products. They represent a cost-effective alternative to the traditional drums and allow filling and effective discharge of the product. In addition these containers offer significantly more storage capacity when they are stacked, allowing to you to optimise transportation.

Pallecon Fruitflow is the latest product in the CHEP Pallecon range of reusable containers available for lease, and is accompanied by a new rental fixed price program. For a single package, food processors can now rent their containers for the season and return them up to 12 months later.

Pallecon Fruitflow offers you a complete solution for rental of containers including: total control; pockets and accessories; transport; cleaning and repair.
